Baylor Opens New Freestanding Emergency Hospital In Colleyville

DHealthcare Daily - Baylor Scott & White Health opened a new emergency hospital in Colleyville, offering 24-hour acute and inpatient care to the growing Tarrant County suburb.

Baylor Emergency Medical Center at Colleyville opened at 5500 Colleyville Blvd. on August 26. The 20,000-square foot facility includes seven beds, diagnostic imaging, a laboratory, and eight inpatient beds for anyone who needs further medical services.

The location will handle patients with breathing problems, heart attack or strokes, broken bones, trauma situations, severe allergic reactions, and more.

Unlike freestanding emergency departments and urgent care clinics, the location in Colleyville is a fully licensed hospital, offering inpatient services should they be required.

"A great patient benefit is that an ER-trained physician is on-site, 24/7," said Dr. John Wood, regional CEO of Baylor Emergency Medical Centers, in a statement. "The smaller setting allows for attentive care for those patients who require overnight medical care."
